One Last Hope

London Carter is a leader of a popular group of rebellious teenagers in Boulder High. Aside from being rebellious, they also have a knack in musical and performance and often host flash mobs as a part of their school's annual musical drama. One morning when they perform a flash mob at a local park, London falls in love at first sight with an innocent but talented young girl named Jamie Sullivan, who also happens to be a lead singer in Boulder High's musical drama. London tries to hide his feelings for her, but he's afraid he'll be found out and Jamie will mock him for falling in love with the nerdy Jamie and keeps his cool while trying to get to know more of her.

One day London is accused of doing a rehearsal act and ends up getting apart in the musical drama as a punishment by his headmaster. Jamie is asked to be his mentor and although she returns at first, she starts to warm to him and give him lessons to sing in the one circumstance he might not fall in love with her. A question which London is wondering why.

They grow closer in time, and Jamie starts falling for London too. They start figuring out how to make it work and overcome challenges together in finding the common trading from friends and drama.

On the day of the musical drama, Jamie finally reveals that she has a terminal disease leukemia and she's slowly according London is devastated, but seems to fulfil Jamie's three last wishes.
