I am an Bachelor of Engineering. One of my hobbies is to make an informative design so that it's easier understandable for readers. I like to meet new people, the environment and adventure new thing as more and more meet there are more and more knowledge and things that can be learned. I like the criticism and constructive advice because it's very useful for processing and improving ability. Effective and be ontime that I always try to apply in everything. Listening to music, sports, traveling is something I usually do to reduce boredom.
