POISONED

ACID

Industry, agriculture, and other sectors employ poisonous substances for reasons other than their toxicity. Most poisonous industrial compounds have associated material safety data sheets and are classed as hazardous substances.

SACROSANCT

Sacrosanct is often used to describe religious rituals and traditions, which isn't surprising considering that this adjective comes from the Latin word for something that is protected by a religious sanction.

JULIET ROSE

The most expensive rose ever, it is known as the "£3 million rose" because that's how much it cost famed rose breeder David Austin to create the apricot-hued hybrid over the course of 15 years.
